PANELISTS INCLUDE:

HELEN MITSIOS

An author, editor, and award-winning poet, Helen is the editor of four groundbreaking anthologies including Beneath the Ice: An Anthology of Contemporary Icelandic Poetry and New Japanese Voices: The Best Contemporary Fiction from Japan, which was twice listed as a New York Times Book Review Summer Reading Selection and Editors' Choice. She is co-author of the memoir Waltzing with the Enemy: A Mother and Daughter Confront the Aftermath of the Holocaust, and author of the poetry collection If Black Had a Shadow. She is a Professor of Languages and Literature at Touro College & University System in New York City.

ALLISON NAZARIAN

A graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism, Allison is an award-winning copywriter and the founder of Allison Media Group. AFTERMATH: A Granddaughter's Story of Legacy, Healing & Hope is Allison's fourth book and her first chronicling her experience growing up as the granddaughter of Holocaust survivors. A native of the Washington, D.C. area, Allison lives with her family in South Florida.

ERIKA DREIFUS

Erika Dreifus is the author of Quiet Americans, a short-story collection that is inspired largely by the histories of her paternal grandparents, German Jews who immigrated to the United States in the late 1930s. Erika lives in New York, where she writes poetry and prose and works as Media Editor for Fig Tree Books.

KAREN SHAWN, MODERATOR

Karen Shawn, Ph.D., is visiting associate professor of Jewish education at Yeshiva University's Azrieli Graduate School and the editor of PRISM: An Interdisciplinary Journal for Holocaust Educators, the 2016 winner of the Association of Jewish Libraries award for editing excellence. A recipient of the Covenant Award for Excellence in Jewish Education (2000), Shawn has spoken and written extensively on Holocaust education. Her most recent publication is "How Will We Teach About the Holocaust When Survivors Can No Longer Testify?" in Tworcze praktyki polonistyczne (Creative Polish Language and Literature Practices), Krakow, Taiwpn Universitas, 2015.
